AMERICANS WITH WOMEN AND CHILDREN WARNED TO FLEE DANGER IN CAPITAL OF MEXICO

Advices Sent Privately to This Country Taken to Indicate That Huerta is Determined to Precipitate Hostilities Between United States and Mexico.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
CITY OF MEXICO, October 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Many Americans are fleeing from the City of Mexico today as the result of a private warning received from friends in the United States telling them to get out, and especially for those who have women and children, to leave as soon as possible.

Persons who received these messages said they were apparently based on alleged inside information from Washington on account of the impending trouble between the United States and Mexico. Representatives of American business firms are being recalled by their home offices.

Huerta made it known today that the presidential election will be held October 26 as scheduled. This means that Huerta will remain in office until that date. There are five parties in the field and each has a candidate for the presidency.

In view of the disturbed situation in the country, it is absolutely certain that no candidate can receive a majority of the votes cast. It is expected the crisis in the relations between Mexico and the United States will come immediately after the election. After the announcement is made that the electors have failed to choose a new president, Huerta will continue in office as the Constitution provides ad interim. The parties in the field and their presidential candidates are: Catholic, Frederic Gamboa; Felicista, Felix Diaz; Liberal, Manuel Calero; Liberal-Progressive, David De La Fuente; Anti-Reelection, Velasquez Gomez.

DILLON STOPS RUNAWAY ON PALI

Actor and Wife Have Thrilling Experience on Edge of Precipice.

Struggling with a runaway horse on the verge of the Pali precipice, crashed against the guard rail and almost over it by the maddened brute, and finally trampled under the animal's feet, was the actress of James Dillon, the actor, Sunday afternoon, when the horse attached to the vehicle in which Mrs. Dillon was seated, started on a wild dash down the crooked Pali road.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon paid their first visit to the Pali on the afternoon in question, journeying thither with a horse and buggy.

On reaching the historic spot, Dillon drove up alongside the parapet, and got out, leaving his wife in the buggy. A gust of wind whistling around the corner blew a dead tree branch against the horse's feet, and the animal plunging wildly, started to run. Dillon managed to reach its head and catch the bridle, but the horse in its struggles threw him against the parapet, almost pushing him over, while the buggy teetering on two wheels was in danger of overturning, and spilling Mrs. Dillon over the rail into the abyss.

Plunging and kicking, the brute dragged Dillon and the buggy to the point where the wooden rail begins and here Dillon, his feet bruised by the trampling of iron-shod hoofs, wrestled the horse to its knees, and succeeding in quieting the steed sufficiently to get into town without further accident. Dillon's left side was badly bruised and his feet cut and crushed, so that he was in pain during last night's performance, and will walk with a limp for several days.

EXPERTS SAY THEY FOUND ARSENIC IN BODY

PLYMOUTH, Massachusetts, October 20.—(By Associated Press Cable to Star-Bulletin)—That the body of the late Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton was permeated with arsenic, not less than sixteen grains being found, was the sensational testimony given before the court today in the trial of Admiral Eaton's widow on the charge of murder. The testimony was given by a medical expert. The evidence, which tends to connect Mrs. Eaton directly with her husband's mysterious death on March 5, follows the investigation of a special inquest court, which began its work on October 2. The court went into some of the unusual circumstances surrounding the death, and District Attorney Barker believes that he has a case made out against the widow of the naval officer.

According to the former Governor, his political death was the result of a conspiracy which began when Sulzer refused to accept money from Murphy, just before he took office as Governor. NUNS FLEE FOR LIVES; UNARMED MEN SHOT FOR GOLD IN TEETH

GALVESTON, Texas, October 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The story of how thirty-three Catholic nuns were driven at midnight under fire from their convent, of how unarmed men were shot down for the gold in their teeth, was told here today by members of a band of 369 refugees who arrived today by steamer from Tampico, Mexico.

Nearly all were destitute and had suffered hardships.

Mother Vincent of the Order of the Incarnate Word, in charge of the nuns, was compelled to leave $5000 in gold behind in their convent near Torreon.

The rebels as well as the Constitutionalists are resorting to acts of brigandage, according to the refugees. The troops seem more bent upon rapine and pillage than upon the outcome of the revolution. There is absolutely no protection for property and persons are being shot down upon the slightest provocation.

SHE BOASTS OF VICTORY AS SLAP AT GREAT BRITAIN

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NEW YORK, October 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was set free by the immigration authorities today as soon as they received official notice that Commissioner Caminetti had found her not guilty of "moral turpitude" and within an hour she made a public speech before a crowd that thronged the Battery.

Mrs. Pankhurst left Ellis Island on a government tug at twelve-thirty o'clock this afternoon and landed twenty minutes later. She was accompanied across the bay by twenty-five suffragettes who had gone to the island earlier in the day to serenade her.

When the ovation at the Battery ended Mrs. Pankhurst thanked the crowd for the reception given her and talked at length with the newspaper men. She said:

"What happened today is one of the greatest slaps in the face that official Great Britain ever has had in its fight against the irresistible wave of sentiment for woman suffrage. Great Britain does not want me to tell the truth. Great Britain did not want me to come to the United States for that reason. But I am here to tell the whole truth about the suffrage workers in Great Britain."

From the Battery Mrs. Pankhurst went to the home of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont to dine with prominent suffrage leaders at the Aldine Club tonight.

The first of her set speeches will be delivered Friday night.

MALEFACTORS IN FEDERAL COURT

Sentences Imposed on Ten Defendants—Continuances Granted Others.

Fast work was in order in the federal court yesterday when a large number of cases under indictments brought by the federal grand jury on Saturday morning were disposed of under pleas of guilty, sentence in each case being pronounced in short order.

George W. Smith, the postal clerk who went wrong with his accounts, was given a year in jail and sentenced further to pay $240.65, an amount identical with that represented by his shortage, and also to pay the costs of the case.

David Miller, for selling liquor at Schofield Barracks without the proper permit, got five months, $100 fine and costs.

Ropino, charged with buying an Army shirt from a soldier, was given ten days and fined ten dollars and costs. The opium brigade was fairly well represented. Asakichi Ebezu, Zenzo Arai and Frank Ruel each drew two months and costs and Koski Okada got forty-five dollars and costs.

Violators of the seventh commandment were three in number and drew their sentences as follows: Bienvenido Bonilla, one month and costs; Kaetsu, six months and costs and Ernest Marks, of Maui, one year and costs.

The opium cases against George A. Flower, ex-official umpire of the Oahu League, and Mrs. J. F. Hyland, were continued until this morning when the alleged dope merchants may be called up for arraignment.

The federal grand jury has been ex-cused until called.
